

Welcome!

February is now in full swing, and what a great start we've had at Pugh's!

Last Saturday and Sunday, Pugh's Garden Village in Radyr played host to the eagerly awaited Taffy Tatty Potato Weekend, which saw visitors of all ages and gardening abilities brush up on their spud savvy and growing skills with Welsh potato legend, David Chappel!

And if you're looking for even more gardening inspiration, this weekend (18th & 19th February 2012) we'll be hosting our Spring Garden Show at Pugh's Garden Village in Wenvoe! This exclusive event is FREE for all the family and will feature a talk on organic food and gardening techniques by Michele Fitzsimmons, expert tips from Terry Walton, an insight into garden wildlife by the RSPB, and an Owls 4 U display which is guaranteed to entertain all ages!

With exclusive offers to also be had across both Garden Villages, there's never been a better excuse to visit Pugh's!

See you soon!

Featured Plant: Alstroemeria

Also known as Peruvian lilies, these hardy yet elegant lily-like flowers are available in vibrant shades of red, yellow, pink and apricot — each of which boast eye-catching flecked markings.

Known for their prolific rainbow of colour, Alstroemeria's plethora of blooms will bring a welcome tropical lift to the garden throughout summer until the first frosts, each and every year.

These hardy jewels are incredibly easy to grow

(preferring a sunny/partially shaded spot of fertile, well-drained soil) making them the perfect addition to sunny borders or patio pots.

Their flowers also last well when cut, making them also a firm favourite for cut flower arrangements.

To Do List

Once they have finished flowering, prune winter-flowering shrubs

Keep birds away from fruit and vegetables by netting your crops

Prune hardy evergreens and maintain deciduous hedges

Cut back deciduous grasses

Prepare vegetable seed beds and sow relevant vegetables under cover

Continue to keep houseplants in the sunniest position possible

Check stakes, ties, fleeces and cloches regularly for any signs of wind rock
